Wednesday, January 26.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Rev. P. P. Blalock will preach in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock.

Misses Myra and Edith Pearce visited their aunt, Mrs. J. H. Cantelou last week.

Mr. E. H. Aull, Mr. C. A. Bowman and Mr. Summers of Newberry spent Tuesday in Edgefield on business.

Mrs. W. L. Dunovant is attending the executive session of the Presbyterian in Columbia this week.

Miss Ethel Schenk has accepted a position with Mr. Israel Mukashy on his salesforce at his new store.

Mr. James Cothran of Abbeville was here Monday visiting his aunts, Mesdames Susan B. Hill and W. C. Tompkins.

Prof. C. F. Brooks was called to Columbia Monday to attend a hearing before one of the legislative committees.

Messrs Yonce & Mooney can now deliver a Fordson tractor at your door for $700 in stead of $850, which is a considerable slump.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Dobson of Augusta and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dobson of Beech Island spent Sunday here visiting their mother, Mrs. Emma N. Dobson.

Mr. A. E. Padgett returned from the hospital in Columbia last Wednesday fully restored in health and is now constantly at his post in the Farmers Bank.

Mrs. W. L. Dunovant, Sr., and Mrs. W. L. Dunovant, Jr., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sweeney of the Highland Park Hotel at Aiken one day last week.

The Economy Store announces this week a special sale which will begin Wednesday, February 2. Watch for their double page advertisement in The Advertiser next week. Unprecedented bargains will be offered.

Mrs. S. McG. Simkins and Miss Mary Butler were the guests of Mrs. Clint Graydon for last week-end, attending the convocation which was held in Columbia, witnessing the ordination of the Bishop Coadjutor, the Rt. Rev. K. G. Finlay, D. D.

Mr. Walter Holston has been warmly greeted by his friends upon his return from Hartsville where he has been employed by the same contractors that installed the Edgefield sewerage system. He will remain here until work is begun on another contract.

FOR RENT: Three desirable rooms, access to water system and bath room.

WALTER L. HOLSTON.

Chief Harry Culbreath has been doing some good work on the streets, notwithstanding the handicap of frequent rains. But he can't keep the streets in order if the people deliberately throw leaves and trash in the ditches after he cleans them out. Be more thoughtful and throw the trash elsewhere.

Messrs. Yonce & Mooney announce this week that they will hereafter work upon any make of cars in their repair department. During last year the Ford Company restricted them to repair work on Ford cars and trucks only. Now they are an "open" shop and can work on anything at any time, but always at reasonable prices.

Those who attended the Timmerman-Williams wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cogburn, Mrs. J. P. Ouzts, Mr. W. A. Strom, Mrs. Frank Logan, Miss Helen Strom, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Byrd, Mrs. J. S. Byrd, Mrs. J. W. Thurmond, Miss Gertrude Thurmond, Mrs. Mamie Tillman, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Timmerman, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mims.

Mr. E. J. Norris attended the meeting of the General Board of Baptists which adjourned on Wednesday. He reported this to be a splendid and inspiring meeting and was gratified at the large number of splendid practical business men among the preachers of our state in addition to the laymen who are wise in the affairs of the world.

Power Cut Off.

We beg indulgence of our readers this week, the late publication being due to the electric power being cut off. The heavy freeze broke some of the wires down. As our linotype machine and presses are operated by electric motors, a wheel could not turn while the power was off.

Mr. Lanham's Visit.

Mr. T. B. Lanham, general Y. M. C. A. secretary for South Carolina, delivered a very earnest message at the Baptist church Sunday morning, taking a collection at the conclusion for the State Y. M. C. A. work. He was very cordially greeted by his old friends while here. Mr. Lanham gave a book entitled, "That Damned Y," to the public library while here. Get it from the library and read it.

Teachers' Meeting Postponed.

On account of the very unfavorable weather and bad roads, the meeting of the Edgefield County Teachers' Association has been postponed from Saturday, January 29, to Saturday, February 5. All teachers and trustees will please take notice of this change. The invitation extended the teachers and school trustees of the county by the women's Christian Temperance Union still stands and the luncheon will be given in the high school dining room Saturday, February 5. Mr. Fuller and the ladies of the W. C. T. U. are expecting a full attendance for the meeting Saturday, February 5. Let no teacher or trustee fail to be present then.

Grand Double Bill at Edgefield Theatre.

The greatest event in Edgefield amusements will take place next Friday night. There will be a grand big double bill. The Joyland Vaudeville Revue of 1921, an organization of 10 high class artists, offering 5 big acts, each one of which has been on all the big time vaudeville circuits in this country and several have been all over the world, will give their full performance that night. Included in this company is Mme. Zenda, the famous original mindreader, the seer who knows all, sees all, tells all. If there is anything troubling you, just give her your question and she will answer you. In addition there will be pretty girls, mysterious illusions, singing, and dancing, comedy turns, comedy juggling, altogether enough to more than furnish a full evening performance. BUT with this wonderful attraction will be given in full the great feature 6-reel picture, The Luck of the Irish. This picture alone is worth more than the price of admission, which is only 50 cents for adults and 25 for children and war tax. Friday night will be the biggest night in Edgefield, and no one can afford to miss it.

Lee and Jackson Celebration at High School.

Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock under the auspices of the local United Daughters of the Confederacy, a Lee and Jackson celebration program was carried out. Mrs. A. A. Woodson, chapter historian, presided over the meeting which was held in the High School auditorium.

Dr. R. G. Lee made the invocation and June Nicholson gave a poem on Stonewall Jackson. Elise Hudgens read from memory a eulogy on Robert E. Lee.

Eleanor Mims read from the Confederate Veteran a poem "The Stainless Soldier," a tribute to General Lee. Mr. Claude Burnett was introduced by Mrs. Woodson as the speaker of the occasion and made a very interesting and acceptable address on the subject of these two southern heroes. These are splendid occasions for patrons to exhibit their interest in the school and at the same time be benefitted themselves.

Luncheon for Teachers' Association.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will serve a luncheon at the High School on Saturday at one o'clock to all the teachers and trustees who will attend the Edgefield County Teachers' Association. My Ambition.

"I do not ask for a conspicuous part
In this old game of life;
Or crave fame and wealth in my heart—

Just contentment will suffice.

But this I crave, that I might bring
The light and joy and happiness
To some poor soul whose heartstring
Is torn and bleeding in distress.

And to cheer somewhere a lonely heart,

By kind word, deed or smile;
Any way I can to help him start
On the road that is worth while.

Help him who is in darkness, lost the way,

As unguided he has trod
The sinful road that leads astray
Back to the path of God.

W. S. G. HEATH.
